Mrs. H. S. Eaton has been visiting so much that residence has been repeatedly arrested for vagrancy o become professional bums and in jail so much that residence has been claimed in that way. If the these chaps become chargeable to their home towns at the cutset they would be no expense to the town today. In the one case the subject came here from a Pennayivania farm, worked here occasionally and then gave work up entirely and devoted his time to getting drunk and into jail and getting drunk and into jail again, and finally to the almahouse. There is another case where the subject is now in jail but owing to his crippled condition will probably soon be a candidate for the almahouse. This man is a native and resident of Westerly and was sent for a term of six months to the state farm from Westerly nearly two years ago. Prior to that he had been about New London and soon as he was released be went back to his home town. Westerly.

As he showed inclination to remain he was quietly told to leave town by the authorized official under threat of being sent hack to the state farm. His fare was paid to New London and he departed: Soon thereafter he again appeared in Westerly evidently desiring to spend his declining years in his mative town and, within easy reach of relatives, who had for good reasons shunned him. Assan he was picked up and shipped back to New London, the dumping ground for sums not only from towns in Connecticut but from other states. After a short while he became so obnoxious that he was sent to the New London jail, where he is no stranger. So he is on the read that leads men of that ilk to a home for life in the simphowe at the expense of the town and to the detriment of the really deserving poor, who are entitled to the support of the town.
